

Molly's Grin

By

Once upon a time there was a girl named Molly. Molly was not your average six year old. She was an adventurous girl that loved to explore her surroundings.

As she started to grow, something unusual began to happen. Her face took on an enormous grin. But this grin had something different. Right smack dab in the middle of Molly's grin was the biggest loose tooth ever!

Her dad tried all kinds of things to get the tooth out, but nothing would work. He tried the doorknob and string trick and biting into an apple. Still nothing! Finally, her father said, "Molly, it's time we go to the dentist to have him yank it out."

She did not like her dad's idea. The thought of the dentist was just too much. She began to whine and whine until she began to feel a little ill. Her dad sent her to her room. Soon she was thinking of adventures to help her forget. She wished to be a pirate hiding in the sea. She wished to be a star on center stage. She even wished to be on the moon so no one could stare at her enormous tooth.

After all her exploring, Molly was so tired that she drifted off to sleep. She saw the tooth fairies dancing in her dreams. Even they were staring at her unusual tooth!

"Oh, my, how will we ever carry that one home?" one mentioned.

"I don't think any of us have enough to cover the cost of that big one!" another fairy exclaimed.

Soon, she was seeing teeth of all shapes and sizes floating in the air. The fairies were hard at work but could not keep up. She felt bad for the fairies. Soon Molly remembered what her father said. Maybe the dentist would not be so bad after all.

When Molly awoke, she rolled out of bed and checked the mirror. She saw something amazing. Right there in front of her was a beautiful, toothless grin!
